The Department of Music offers several types of study. Each course, whether it results in a student's own performance or in heightened perception of others' performances, is designed to increase the student's sense of the richness and importance of music in the human experience.

MUSC 101 (Basic Musicianship), MUSC 102 (Introduction to Music History), and MUSC 103 (Introduction to Ethnomusicology) are considered especially appropriate introductory courses for first-year students or upperclass students new to the department. As the foundation on which the other coursework in the department is built, these courses are required for students considering majors in the department. To facilitate proper placement of entering students, the department administers a music theory/history exam during Orientation.

Students not contemplating a major in music, but having prior experience in music, should also take the placement exam. If the exam is not taken, the student will begin with MUSC 101, 102, or 103. Those who wish to develop basic skills should take MUSC 101, which covers the rudiments of music theory and the aural skills needed by practicing musicians.

MUSC 102 is designed to provide both an overview of the subject and the requisite skills needed for active, informed listening. All other music courses follow logically from MUSC 101 and 102. MUSC 103 is a prerequisite for MUSC 392 (Special Topics in Ethnomusicology). Student recitals for nonmajors will be sponsored by the Department of Music only if the student has taken MUSC 102, Introduction to Music History, or passed that section of the placement exam. For additional courses particularly appropriate for first-year students or upperclass students new to the music department curriculum, look for the ♦ symbol.

Students may also continue their instrumental playing or singing, or they may wish to begin such study. The majority of those taking individual lessons (applied music) at Kenyon begin without formal study before college. Lessons are offered as follows: Levels I and II: 25 minutes (1/8 unit) or 50 minutes (1/4 unit); Levels III and IV: 50 minutes (1/4 unit) or 100 minutes (1/2 unit). Students may take Level I for only two semesters, at which point they must advance to Level II, via a jury, in order to receive academic credit. Past the second semester, lessons may still be taken at Level I for audit credit.

Whether taken for credit or audit, the lessons involve an additional fee. When such instruction is required for the major or minor, however, the fee is waived. The department's applied music program coordinator can provide all pertinent information about the programs of studio instruction.

As a corollary to the applied music program, the department offers ensemble work. The instrumental ensembles call for some degree of proficiency and are usually formed by audition. The Chamber Singers is open only by competitive audition. The Kenyon Community Choir is open to all with a voice-placement audition. Other ensembles include the Symphonic Wind Ensemble; the Kenyon Jazz Ensemble; the Musical Theater/Opera Workshop; the Early Music Ensemble; the Flute Choir; the Continuo Ensemble; string, guitar, woodwind, percussion, and French horn ensembles; and other groups as determined by student interest. As with lessons, it is best to plan to begin such an activity as early in one's academic career as possible.

Requirements for the Major

The minimum requirement of 5 1/2 units is distributed as follows:

- Theory: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 121Y-122Y and either 221 or 222)
- History: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 102 and two of MUSC 202-205)
- Electives: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 103, 302-324, 331, 391-392, or additional from MUSC 202-205)

- Senior Seminar: 1/4 unit (MUSC 401Y-402Y)
- Applied study/performance: 3/4 unit (3 semesters of 50-minute lessons) compiled from applied lessons at Level II or above
- Senior Exercise

Additional requirements: For students whose major instrument is not piano, two semesters of 25-minute piano lessons. (Note: A grade average of 3.33 or higher must be earned for these lessons in order to meet this requirement.)

Requirements for the Minor

The minimum requirement of 3 1/8 units is distributed as follows:

- Theory: 1 unit (MUSC 121Y-122Y)
- History: 1 unit (MUSC 102 and one of MUSC 202-205)
- Electives: 1/2 unit (MUSC 103, 302-324, 391-392, or additional from MUSC 202-205)
- Senior Seminar: 1/4 unit (MUSC 401Y-402Y)
- Applied study/performance: 3/8 unit (3 semesters of 25-minute lessons) compiled from applied lessons at Level II or above.

Senior Exercise

Majors can choose from the following types of Senior Exercise:

- a music theory or music history research project of substantial length, culminating in a public presentation;
- a composition of at least ten minutes in length, culminating in a public presentation;
- a recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total duration on the major instrument; or
- a lecture-recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total length, combining performance on the major instrument with a research presentation related to the instrument and/or the repertoire being performed.

A substantial written component is required in all Senior Exercises. For research projects, the results must be presented in a paper of considerable length (approximately thirty pages). For composition projects, students are required to write a paper describing the compositional process employed and citing influences of other composers. Students performing a recital are required to complete a project (nature to be determined by the department faculty) presenting research on the composers, the contexts of the pieces, any relevant issues pertaining to historical performance, and/or other appropriate issues. Lecture-recitals must include a written component that will serve as a basis for the narrative employed in the performance.

Public presentation is also a requirement of all Senior Exercises. For research projects, this means a department-sponsored public presentation of findings (typically through delivering an abridged version of the full paper). For final approval, the advisor monitors a practice read-through at least two weeks before the official presentation. Composition projects, recitals, and lecture-recitals are presented through department-sponsored performances. For final approval, students must perform and pass a hearing as specified in the department guidelines.

In all cases, the student must determine the type of project, decide on the topic/repertoire, obtain an advisor (in the case of recitals this will be the student's applied adjunct instructor), and submit a tentative written proposal by May 1 of the junior year. A final, formal written proposal is due October 1 of the senior year.

In-progress presentations of Senior Exercise projects are made at Senior Seminar sessions during the second semester. The Senior Exercise must be completed, in all respects, by May 1.

CLASSROOM COURSES

Year Classroom Courses

Music Theory

MUSC 121Y-122Y (1 unit)
Buehrer

This course offers a basic investigation of traditional music theory. The first semester, MUSC 121, will focus on diatonic harmony. MUSC 122 will cover extended chromatic harmony and will introduce twentieth-century techniques. Emphasis will be on writing skills and visual/aural analysis of musical scores. Also included will be an in-depth study of the parameters of music and how these parameters function within a composition. A holistic approach to style is taken, and elements of music are compared with similar principles in the other arts. Student work will include two short composition projects per semester. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Senior Seminar

MUSC 401Y-402Y (1/4 unit)
Cai

This seminar is the required capstone course for students majoring or minoring in music. The goal of the course is to provide a forum wherein students may synthesize their knowledge about the practical, theoretical, and historical aspects of music, as well as to consider the role of music in other contexts (social, political, etc.). Students will, in consultation with the instructors and applied teachers, make presentations based upon their own interests as senior majors or minors. These presentations will be critiqued by other members of the course as a way of encouraging better research strategies and/or interpretive ideas. Open for credit to senior music majors and minors; nonmajors presenting recitals may audit the course.

Senior Honors Project

MUSC 497Y-498Y (1 unit)
Staff

Prerequisite: permission of department chair.

First-Semester Classroom Courses

Basic Musicianship

◆ MUSC 101 (1/2 unit)
Sanders

This is an intensive course in the basic materials of music: pitch elements (scales, intervals, chords), time elements (meter, rhythm), and notation. Emphasis is on the development of basic techniques of music-making: sight-singing, ear-training, and keyboard work. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Introduction to Music History

◆ MUSC 102 (1/2 unit)
Sanders, Cai

This course provides a concise chronological overview of Western art music and its scholarship from antiquity through the twentieth century. Music listening skills and learning to write about music will be emphasized. Some concert attendance may be required. Readings from primary sources will supplement the basic text. This course is a prerequisite for upper-level courses offered by the music department. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. Should be paired with MUSC 101 (or MUSC 121-122 if the music placement test shows advanced music theory skills). No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Introduction to Ethnomusicology

◆ MUSC 103 (1/2 unit)
Spiller

This course introduces the basic questions that drive the field of ethnomusicology—the study of music in its cultural context—and examines how these questions might be approached through selected case studies of music cultures from Africa, Europe, the Middle East, Asia, or the Americas. This course can be used to satisfy requirements in anthropology as well as music. No prerequisites. Enrollment limited.

Music History: Baroque and Classical

MUSC 203 (1/2 unit)
Sanders

This course is a survey of Western music from the early seventeenth century through the era of Haydn and Mozart. While the stylistic development of art music is central to the course, other issues to be discussed include aesthetics, philosophy, performance practice, and socio-political influences. Primary and related secondary readings will be used to enhance the basic texts. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Music Theory: Musical Structure and Analysis

MUSC 222 (1/2 unit)
Buehrer

This course presents a study of musical forms and compositional techniques from ancient times to the present. Smaller sectional forms will include binary (simple and rounded), ternary (simple and compound), and strophic. Larger forms will include rondo, variations (continuous and sectional), sonata-allegro, sonata-rondo, and through-composed. Concurrent to this study of musical forms will be an investigation into the compositional applications of common-practice harmony (pre-1900) and various twentieth-century approaches to musical organization. Students will engage these topics through detailed study of existing pieces, the application of common analytical techniques, and composition. A holistic approach to music will be taken, and comparisons with other arts and sciences will be investigated. Prerequisite: MUSC 122 and 102. Enrollment limited.

Special Topic: Jazz Theory and Arranging

MUSC 321 (1/2 unit)
Buehrer

In this course, students will study the basics of jazz nomenclature, harmony, and voice-leading and their application to writing arrangements for instrumental jazz combos of up to five horns and rhythm section or vocal jazz ensembles. Rhythmic, formal, textural, and other parameters will be studied as well, and comparisons will be made to Western “classical” theoretical conventions to highlight similarities and differences between the two genres. Students will learn to write idiomatically for common jazz instruments and will study appropriate recorded examples. In addition, there will be an ear-training component to the course, and students will frequently be expected to practice theoretical concepts on their instruments. Prerequisite: MUSC 122. Enrollment limited.

Music Theory: Composition

MUSC 322 (1/2 unit)
Stanojevic

This course offers regular individual and class instruction in the craft of composition. Students will employ traditional formal structures as well as other twentieth-century compositional techniques, and will be encouraged to explore both the tonal and atonal melodic/harmonic languages in their compositions. Periodically, students’ work will be presented and discussed during class time. Attendance at a few concerts in Columbus and/or Cleveland will be required. Prerequisites: MUSC 122 and 102 and permission of instructor.
