The Department of Music offers several types of study. Each course, whether it results in a student's own performance or in heightened perception of others' performances, is designed to increase the student's sense of the richness and importance of music in the human experience.

MUSC 101 (Basic Musicianship), MUSC 102 (Introduction to Music History), and MUSC 103 (Introduction to Ethnomusicology) are considered especially appropriate introductory courses for first-year students or upperclass students new to the department. As the foundation on which the other coursework in the department is built, these courses are required for students considering majors in the department. To facilitate proper placement of entering students, the department administers a music theory/history exam during Orientation.

Students not contemplating a major in music, but having prior experience in music, should also take the placement exam. If the exam is not taken, the student will begin with MUSC 101, 102, or 103. Those who wish to develop basic skills should take MUSC 101, which covers the rudiments of music theory and the aural skills needed by practicing musicians. MUSC 102 is designed to provide both an overview of the subject and the requisite skills needed for active, informed listening. All other music courses follow logically from MUSC 101 and 102. MUSC 103 is a prerequisite for MUSC 392 (Special Topics in Ethnomusicology).

Student recitals for nonmajors will be sponsored by the Department of Music only if the student has taken MUSC 102, Introduction to Music History, or passed that section of the placement exam. For additional courses particularly appropriate for first-year students or upperclass students new to the music department curriculum, look for the ∙ symbol.

Students may also continue their instrumental playing or singing, or they may wish to begin such study. The majority of those taking individual lessons (applied music) at Kenyon begin without formal study before college. Lessons are offered as follows: Levels I and II: 25 minutes (1/8 unit) or 50 minutes (1/4 unit); Levels III and IV: 50 minutes (1/4 unit) or 100 minutes (1/2 unit). Students may take Level I for only two semesters, at which point they must advance to Level II, via a jury, in order to receive academic credit. Past the second semester, lessons may still be taken at Level I for audit credit.
Whether taken for credit or audit, the lessons involve an additional fee. When such instruction is required for the major or minor, however, the fee is waived. The department's applied music program coordinator can provide all pertinent information about the programs of studio instruction.

As a corollary to the applied music program, the department offers ensemble work. The instrumental ensembles call for some degree of proficiency and are usually formed by audition. The Chamber Singers is open only by competitive audition. The Kenyon Community Choir is open to all with a voice-placement audition. Other ensembles include the Symphonic Wind Ensemble; the Kenyon Jazz Ensemble; the Musical Theater/Opera Workshop; the Early Music Ensemble; the Flute Choir; the Continuo Ensemble; string, guitar, woodwind, percussion, and French horn ensembles; and other groups as determined by student interest.

A substantial written component is required in all Senior Exercises. For research projects, the results must be presented in a paper of considerable length (approximately thirty pages). For composition projects, students are required to write a paper describing the compositional process employed and citing influences of other composers. Students performing a recital are required to provide program notes presenting research on the composers, the contexts of the pieces, any relevant issues pertaining to historical performance, and/or other appropriate issues. Lecture-recitals must include a written component that will serve as a basis for the narrative employed in the performance.

Public presentation is also a requirement of all Senior Exercises. For research projects, this means a department-sponsored public presentation of findings (typically through delivering an abridged version of the full paper). For final approval, the advisor monitors a practice read-through at least two weeks before the official presentation. Composition projects, recitals, and lecture-recitals are presented through department-sponsored performances. For final approval, students must perform and pass a hearing as specified in the department guidelines.

In all cases, the student must determine the type of project, decide on the topic/repertoire, obtain an advisor (in the case of recitals this will be the student's applied adjunct instructor), and submit a formal proposal by the first week of November. In-progress presentations of Senior Exercise projects are made at Senior Seminar sessions during the second semester. The Senior Exercise must be completed, in all respects, by May 1.

Requirements for the Minor

The minimum requirement of 3 1/8 units is distributed as follows:

- Theory: 1 unit (MUSC 121-122)
- History: 1 unit (MUSC 102 and one of MUSC 202-205)
- Electives: 1/2 unit (MUSC 103, 302-324, 391-392, or additional from MUSC 202-205)
- Senior Seminar: 1/4 unit (MUSC 401-402)
- Applied study/performance: 3/8 unit (3 semesters of 25-minute lessons) compiled from applied lessons at Level II or above.

Senior Exercise

There are several possible types of Senior Exercise for majors. The choices are:

- A music theory or music history research project of substantial length, culminating in a public presentation;
- A composition of at least ten minutes in length, culminating in a public presentation;
- A recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total duration on the major instrument; or
- A lecture-recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total length, combining performance on the major instrument with a research presentation related to the instrument and/or the repertoire being performed.

CLASSROOM COURSES

Year Classroom Courses

Music Theory
MUSC 121-122 (1 unit)

This course offers a basic investigation of traditional music theory. The first semester, MUSC 121, will focus on diatonic harmony. MUSC 122 will cover extended chromatic harmony and will introduce twentieth-century techniques. Emphasis will be on writing skills and visual/aural analysis of musical scores. Also included will be an in-depth study of the parameters of music and how these parameters function within a composition. A holistic approach to style is taken, and elements of music are compared with similar principles in the other arts. Student work will include two short composition projects per semester. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Senior Seminar
MUSC 401-402 (1/4 unit)

This seminar is the required capstone course for students majoring or minoring in music. The goal of the course is to provide a forum wherein students may synthesize their knowledge about the practical, theoretical, and historical aspects of music, as well as to consider the role of music in other contexts (social, political, etc.). Students will, in consultation with the instructors and applied teachers, make presentations based upon their own interests as senior majors or minors. These presentations will be critiqued by other members of the course as a way of encouraging better research strategies and/or interpretive ideas. Open for credit to senior music majors and minors; nonmajors presenting recitals may audit the course.

Senior Honors Project
MUSC 497-498 (1 unit)

Prerequisite: permission of department chair.

First-Semester Classroom Courses

Basic Musicianship
MUSC 101 (1/2 unit)

This is an intensive course in the basic materials of music: pitch elements (scales, intervals, chords), time elements (meter, rhythm), and notation. Emphasis is on the development of basic techniques of music-making: sight-singing, ear-training, and keyboard work. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Introduction to Music History
MUSC 102 (1/2 unit)

This course provides a concise chronological overview of Western art music and its scholarship from antiquity through the twentieth century. Musical listening skills and learning to write about music will be emphasized. Some concert attendance may be required. Readings from primary sources will supplement the basic text. This course is a prerequisite for upper-level courses offered by the music department. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. Should be paired with MUSC 101 (or MUSC 121-122 if the music placement test shows advanced music theory skills). No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Music History: Nineteenth Century
MUSC 204 (1/2 unit)

This course is a survey of Western music from Beethoven to the end of the nineteenth century. While the stylistic development of music is central to the course, other issues to be discussed include aesthetics, philosophy, performance practice, and cultural/political influences that significantly affected music. Primary and secondary source readings will be used to augment the basic text. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Musical Counterpoint
MUSC 221 (1/2 unit)

This course presents a study of contrapuntal forms and techniques, concentrating primarily on stylistic writing of the eighteenth century in two to four voices. Among the contrapuntal forms and procedures that will be studied are the dance suite, canon, invention, sinfonia, fugue, trio sonata, chaconne, and passacaglia. Students will learn the eighteenth-century contrapuntal style through an equal balance of analysis of existing works and composition of new works. A holistic approach to music will be taken, and comparison with other arts and sciences will be investigated. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 (102 may be taken concurrently). Enrollment limited.

The History of Jazz
MUSC 302 (1/2 unit)

The most fascinating thing about jazz is its vitality. Jazz remains today what it has been since its inception: an art form of intense personal expression in the context of collaborative improvisation. This course is a social and stylistic investigation of the history of jazz, from its African-American origins up to the present. Progressing chronologically, students will investigate through a variety of sources the main jazz styles and musicians and their development and influence upon the jazz scene.
