The Department of Music offers several types of study. Each course, whether it results in a student's own performance or in heightened perception of others' performances, is designed to increase the student's sense of the richness and importance of music in the human experience.

MUSC 101 (Basic Musicianship), MUSC 102 (Introduction to Music History), and MUSC 103 (Introduction to Ethnomusicology) are considered especially appropriate introductory courses for first-year students or upperclass students new to the department. As the foundation on which the other coursework in the department is built, these courses are required for students considering majors in the department. To facilitate proper placement of entering students, the department administers a music theory/history exam during Orientation.

Students not contemplating a major in music, but having prior experience in music, should also take the placement exam. If the exam is not taken, the student will begin with MUSC 101, 102, or 103. Those who wish to develop basic skills should take MUSC 101, which covers the rudiments of music theory and the aural skills needed by practicing musicians.

MUSC 102 is designed to provide both an overview of the subject and the requisite skills needed for active, informed listening. All other music courses follow logically from MUSC 101 and 102. MUSC 103 is a prerequisite for MUSC 392 (Topics in Ethnomusicology). Students with AP credit should consult the department chair. Student recitals for nonmajors will be sponsored by the Department of Music only if the student has taken MUSC 102, Introduction to Music History, or passed that section of the placement exam. For additional courses particularly appropriate for first-year students or upperclass students new to the music department curriculum, look for the ♦ symbol.

Students may also continue their instrumental playing or singing, or they may wish to begin such study. The majority of those taking individual lessons (applied music) at Kenyon begin without formal study before college. Lessons are offered as follows: Levels I and II: 25 minutes (1/8 unit) or 50 minutes (1/4 unit); Levels III and IV: 50 minutes (1/4 unit) or 100 minutes (1/2 unit). Students may take Level I for only two semesters, at which point they must advance to Level II, via a jury, in order to receive academic credit. Past the second semester, lessons may still be taken at Level I for audit credit.

Whether taken for credit or audit, the lessons involve an additional fee.

When such instruction is required for the major or minor, however, the fee is waived. The department's applied music program coordinator can provide all pertinent information about the programs of studio instruction.

As a corollary to the applied music program, the department offers ensemble work. The instrumental ensembles call for some degree of proficiency and are usually formed by audition. The Chamber Singers is open only by competitive audition. The Kenyon Community Choir is open to all with a voice-placement audition. Other ensembles include the Symphonic Wind Ensemble; the Kenyon Jazz Ensemble; the Musical Theater/Opera Workshop; the Early Music Ensemble; the Flute Choir; the Continuo Ensemble; string, guitar, woodwind, percussion, harp, and French horn ensembles; and other groups as determined by student interest. As with lessons, it is best to plan to begin such an activity as early in one's academic career as possible.

Requirements for the Major

The minimum requirement of 5 1/2 units is distributed as follows:

- Theory: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 121Y-122Y and either 221 or 222)
- History: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 102 and two of MUSC 202-205, 221, 222)

- Electives: 1 1/2 units (MUSC 103, 302-324, 331, 391-392, or additional from MUSC 202-205, 221, and 222)
- Senior Seminar: 1/4 unit (MUSC 401Y-402Y)
- Applied study/performance: 3/4 unit (3 semesters of 50-minute lessons) compiled from applied lessons at Level II or above
- Senior Exercise

Additional requirements: For students whose major instrument is not piano, two semesters of 25-minute piano lessons. (Note: A grade average of 3.33 or higher must be earned each semester for these lessons to meet this requirement.)

Requirements for the Minor

The minimum requirement of 3 1/8 units is distributed as follows:

- Theory: 1 unit (MUSC 121Y-122Y)
- History: 1 unit (MUSC 102 and one of MUSC 202-205)
- Electives: 1/2 unit (MUSC 103, 302-324, 391-392, or additional from MUSC 202-205, 221, and 222)
- Senior Seminar: 1/4 unit (MUSC 401Y-402Y)
- Applied study/performance: 3/8 unit (3 semesters of 25-minute lessons) compiled from applied lessons at Level II or above.

Senior Exercise

Majors can choose from the following types of Senior Exercise:

- a music theory or music history research project of substantial length, culminating in a public presentation;
- a composition of at least ten minutes in length, culminating in a public presentation;
- a recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total duration on the major instrument; or
- a lecture-recital of fifty to sixty minutes in total length, combining performance on the major instrument with a research presentation related to the instrument and/or the repertoire being performed.

A substantial written component is required in all Senior Exercises. For research projects, the results must be presented in a paper of considerable length (approximately thirty to forty pages). For composition projects, students are required to write a twenty-page paper describing the compositional process employed and citing influences of other composers. Students performing a recital are required to complete a project (nature to be determined by the department faculty; usually a ten-page paper) presenting research on the composers, the contexts of the pieces, any relevant issues pertaining to historical performance, and/or other appropriate issues. Lecture-recitals must include a twenty-page paper that will serve as a basis for the narrative employed in the performance.

Public presentation is also a requirement of all Senior Exercises. For research projects, this means a department-sponsored public presentation of findings (typically through delivering an abridged version of the full paper). Composition projects, recitals, and lecture-recitals are presented through department-sponsored performances. For final approval, all students must perform/present and pass a preliminary hearing, as specified in the department guidelines, two weeks before the official presentation.

In all cases, the student must determine the type of project, decide on the topic/repertoire, obtain an advisor (in the case of recitals, the student's applied adjunct instructor will be one of two advisors), and submit to the department chair a tentative written proposal by May 1 of the junior year. A final, formal written proposal is due October 1 of the senior year.

In-progress presentations of Senior Exercise projects are made at Senior Seminar sessions during the second semester. The Senior Exercise must be completed, in all respects, by May 1.

CLASSROOM COURSES

Year Classroom Courses

Music Theory

MUSC 121Y-122Y (1 unit)
Buehrer

This course offers a basic investigation of traditional music theory. The first semester, MUSC 121, will focus on diatonic harmony. MUSC 122 will cover extended chromatic harmony and will introduce twentieth-century techniques. Emphasis will be on writing skills and visual/aural analysis of musical scores. Also included will be an in-depth study of the parameters of music and how these parameters function within a composition. A holistic approach to style is taken, and elements of music are compared with similar principles in the other arts. Student work will include two short composition projects per semester. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Senior Seminar

MUSC 401Y-402Y (1/4 unit)
Cai

This seminar is the required capstone course for students majoring or minoring in music. The goal of the course is to provide a forum wherein students may synthesize their knowledge about the practical, theoretical, and historical aspects of music, as well as to consider the role of music in other contexts (social, political, etc.). Students will, in consultation with the instructors and applied teachers, make presentations based upon their own interests as senior majors or minors. These presentations will be critiqued by other members of the course as a way of encouraging better research strategies and/or interpretive ideas. Open for credit to senior music majors and minors; nonmajors presenting recitals may audit the course.

Senior Honors Project

MUSC 497Y-498Y (1 unit)
Staff

Prerequisite: permission of department chair.

First-Semester Classroom Courses

Basic Musicianship

◆ MUSC 101 (1/2 unit)
Staff

This is an intensive course in the basic materials of music: pitch elements (scales, intervals, chords), time elements (meter, rhythm), and notation. Emphasis is on the development of basic techniques of music-making: sight-singing, ear-training, and keyboard work. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Introduction to Music History

◆ MUSC 102 (1/2 unit)
Heuchemer, Cai

This course provides a concise chronological overview of Western art music and its scholarship from antiquity through the twentieth century. Music listening skills and learning to write about music will be emphasized. Some concert attendance may be required. Readings from primary sources will supplement the basic text. This course is a prerequisite for upper-level courses offered by the music department. Suggested for first-year students or those new to the department. Should be paired with MUSC 101 (or MUSC 121-122 if the music placement test shows advanced music theory skills). No prerequisite. Enrollment limited.

Music History: Twentieth Century

MUSC 205 (1/2 unit)
Cai

This course is a survey of major trends of twentieth-century Western art music, from Debussy's rejections of classical rules to today's musical eclecticism. While the stylistic development of music is central to the course, other issues to be discussed include aesthetics, philosophy, performance practice, and cultural/political influences that significantly affected music. Primary and secondary source readings will be used to augment the basic text. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Music Theory: Musical Structure and Analysis

MUSC 222 (1/2 unit)
Buehrer

This course presents a study of musical forms and compositional techniques from ancient times to the present. Smaller sectional forms will include binary (simple and rounded), ternary (simple and compound), and strophic. Larger forms will include rondo, variations (continuous and sectional), sonata-allegro, sonata-rondo, and through-composed. Concurrent to this study of musical forms will be an investigation into the compositional applications of common-practice harmony (pre-1900) and various twentieth-century approaches to musical organization. Students will engage these topics through detailed study of existing pieces, the application of common analytical techniques, and composition. A holistic approach to music will be taken, and comparisons with other arts and sciences will be investigated. Prerequisite: MUSC 122 and 102. Enrollment limited.

The History of Jazz

MUSC 302 (1/2 unit)
Buehrer

The most fascinating thing about jazz is its vitality. Jazz remains today what it has been since its inception: an art form of intense personal expression in the context of collaborative improvisation. This course is a social and stylistic investigation of the history of jazz, from its African-American origins up to the present. Progressing chronologically, students will investigate through a variety of sources the main jazz styles and musicians and their development and influence upon the jazz scene. Prerequisites: MUSC 101 (or placement by exam) and either 102 or 103 (or placement by exam). Declared American Studies majors may enroll in this course with only MUSC 101 as prerequisite, though 102 or 103 are recommended. Enrollment limited.

Special Topics in Ethnomusicology: Music of Korea

MUSC 392 (1/2 unit)

See first-semester course description.

Introduction to Ethnomusicology

◆ MUSC 103 (1/2 unit)
Spiller

This course introduces the basic questions that drive the field of ethnomusicology—the study of music in its cultural context—and examines how these questions might be approached through selected case studies of music cultures from Africa, Europe, the Middle East, Asia, or the Americas. This course can be used to satisfy requirements in anthropology as well as music. No prerequisites. Enrollment limited.

Music History: Middle Ages and Renaissance

MUSC 202 (1/2 unit)
Heuchemer

This course is a survey of Western music from antiquity through the end of the sixteenth century. While the stylistic development of music is central to the course, other issues to be discussed include aesthetics, philosophies, performance practices, and cultural/political influences that significantly affected music. Primary and secondary source readings will be used to augment the basic texts. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam. Enrollment limited.

Court Musical Patronage

MUSC 305 (1/2 unit)
Heuchemer

Although the European nobility often displayed questionable social and political morality, courts served a vital role in the development of the arts. While court musicians were typically considered to be employees, and (to quote Joseph Haydn's first contract with the Esterhazy family) "expected to appear in the royal ante-chamber daily, morning and afternoon, well-groomed and in fine livery, to receive his orders," the relationship between the nobility and their hired artists was very much a two-way street. This seminar will address court musical patronage from the Middle Ages through the Napoleonic era by investigating important court musical establishments, hiring and general employment policies, and the uses of music at court. The role of music as a propaganda tool of the nobility will be a topic of special importance. Music from a number of composers with professional ties to the nobility will be analyzed and discussed, particularly with regard to innovations critical to the development of art music. Prerequisite: MUSC 101 and 102 or placement by exam, or permission of the instructor. Enrollment limited.

Introduction to Computer Music and MIDI Technology

MUSC 324 (1/2 unit)
Buehrer

This semester-long course will investigate the ways in which computers and MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface) technology may be used in the field of music today. Beginning with an introduction to the physics of sound and an historical overview of electronic music, the course will provide students with an understanding of basic sound production and how recent advances in music technology fit into the larger context of electronic music experimentation in the twentieth century. The bulk of the course will focus on modern music technology and its use, the basics of MIDI, music notation software (such as Sibelius), sequencing software (such as Cubase), multimedia authoring (Max/Msp), audio editing (such as Peak), and the instruments commonly used with desktop MIDI workstations, such as synthesizers and digital samplers. Prerequisite: MUSC 102 and 122 (may be taken concurrently).
